Ivers & Pond Pianos

The piano of the day is the small grand. All the best qualities that the word "grand" suggests, and yet a piano not too large for the tiniest home is our new Princess Grand. It is a musician's piano, with its noble tone, and satisfying action-touch. It is a connoisseur's piano with its refined Colonial casing. It is a home piano, built for service—such as in nearly 400 Educational Institutions and 50,000 American homes has earned the high reputation of the Ivers & Pond.

ONE IMPORTANT POINT

In selecting a piano is ease of action. This is sometimes overlooked. The action of the

has been constructed with special reference to this point. The Ivers & Pond action is elastic, responsive, and so easy that the most delicate child can play it without tiring the fingers. This is but one point of superiority in the Ivers & Pond Piano. Others will reveal themselves in a long series of surprises. The Ivers & Pond cases are up-to-date, the prices are down-to-date, and the interior construction, well, it's the best that can be made.

OROZCO CALLS UPON ALL MEXICANS TO UNITE WITH REBELS TO RESTORE PEACE

Declares the Way to Prevent Intervention Is to Remove the Cause.

From the rebel junta in El Paso, the following proclamation to the Mexican people by Pascual Orozco, the rebel leader, has been issued:

"Proclamation of Pascual Orozco on behalf of the revolutionary party to all of the people of the republic of Mexico and its foreign colonies.

"Greetings.
"I, Pascual Orozco, on behalf of the insubordinate citizens of Mexico and in the name of the revolutionary party, now existing and in full control of the states of Chihuahua and Sinaloa, declare this object of the revolution: the complete recognition of the principles involved in the constitution of the republic of Mexico, the restoration of peace and order in conformity with the moral and commercial progress of the nation. I realize the painful fact that the present Madero government has absolutely failed to establish itself in conformity with the constitution; and by its operations is degrading our flag and bringing the great republic of Mexico into such disrepute as will not only imperil its standing among the civilized nations of the world, but is rapidly leading to its downfall. If not complete annihilation. Under the Madero administration the lives and property of our people are in jeopardy, and those of foreign citizens and residents are in jeopardy. We have invited foreign citizens to establish themselves in our midst, under the guarantee accorded by the constitution and laws of the republic, namely, preservation of the integrity of property, protection in its ownership, and free and untrammeled use of the same in accordance with law.

"Complaint has been made to the Madero administration that widespread suffering is starting them in the face. Due to the fact that their property and lives are not only endangered but in many instances actually destroyed. Every act of violence, every destruction of property of foreigners, means untold loss to Mexican citizens, as well as depreciation of financial and moral prestige to our beloved country.

"The Madero administration has not only shown its unwillingness to preserve the guarantee accorded to all of its classes under our flag, but has proven its inability to do so, and by such attitude has provoked the determination on the part of the United States and other foreign countries, to forcibly intervene on behalf of their citizens residing in the event that the purpose of protecting their lives and property.

"Many Millions of Foreign Capital. You well know that hundreds of millions of dollars have been invested in this republic by foreigners in the best of faith and with the assurance of every protection necessary in the pursuit of their interests, hence, it becomes the duty of good property owners of this republic to rise and join hands under the flag which guarantees liberty, fair play and equal rights to all, and show to the world that the Mexican nation is not only willing but is able to fully and wholly protect the lives and property of all foreign citizens residing in this republic, and to reestablish a government which is able to preserve peace and order and maintain the national prestige and honor of the Mexican nation, and its high standard of respectability among the nations of the civilized world.

"Promises to End Bloodshed. To that end as the leader of the revolutionary party, I offer not only my services and physical resources but I pledge and offer my life to the people. Having their cooperation I will in a very short time stop all bloodshed and destruction of property and establish a government that will adhere to the principles of our constitution, guarantee equal rights to all and establish the approbation and cooperation in commercial and moral progress of all civilized nations of the earth.

"I call upon you in the name of our flag, which is so dear to every citizen of Mexico, to stand by its principles and join me in my honest effort to establish peace and order and show to the world which has in plain words a determination, in the event that the lives and property of its citizens are not wholly and fully protected to forcibly intervene on behalf of their citizens residing in our midst our determination and ability to preserve the rights of all.

"Does Not Want Intervention. We must not have intervention. We should not permit, therefore, conditions to prevail which is in any sense a just cause for intervention.

the republic by Madero is in such an unsatisfactory manner as to provoke the criticism of our well meaning citizens and the condemnation of foreign nations which have heretofore been so friendly to us and to have cooperated in good faith in the development of our resources.

"An evidence of the ability of the revolutionary party to establish peace and order and protect the lives and property of all residents within the territory over which it now holds control, I refer you with pride to the condition of affairs now prevailing in the great state of Chihuahua and that will soon prevail in the newly acquired territory, Sinaloa.

"We, as civilized and progressive people, do condemn in the most effective manner possible any procedure that leads to unnecessary destruction of property, looting of the treasury of our republic for personal ends, depressing its credit, and provoking difficulties leading to international complications and so effecting its credit as to make it exceedingly difficult to provide public funds so essential to its progress.

"Calls Madero Weak. The conduct of Madero since he has been in power clearly demonstrates his weakness of character, his inability to govern, his selfish greed and willingness to so antagonize the well meaning people of the republic as to make the present revolutionary movement absolutely necessary to preserve our national integrity.

"If he were permitted to remain in power it is plain to see that the complete disgrace and bankruptcy of the entire republic would result. He should therefore be removed out at the earliest possible moment.

"It is not only the purpose and determination of the revolutionary party to establish peace and order but to completely reorganize the present administration and put at the head of the government a man who is the choice of the people and who is able to select such coadjutors in the administration of the affairs of the republic as will vouchsafe the restoration of its high standing among nations of the earth.

"This being done, in our judgment, we need fear no further revolutions. I again, fellow countrymen, plead in the name of humanity, peace, justice and fair play and good will to all men."

PREPARING TO RAISE RECRUITS

Washington Authorities May Make Denver Post a Rendezvous.

Denver, Colo., April 27.—Says the Times:

"That a clash with Mexico is expected by the war department and that Fort Logan is to be made a point for the mobilization of the national guard and the recruitment of volunteers is the opinion expressed in army circles following the receipt by the quartermaster at Fort Logan of a communication from the department at Washington.

The communication requests information as to the facilities offered at Fort Logan for the storage of ordnance and inquiries specifically whether the quartermaster affords 70,000 cubic feet of space for this purpose.

The term "ordnance" as used in this connection, includes the arms used by every branch of the service in actual warfare. The quartermaster at Fort Logan informed the authorities at Washington that with the expenditure of $500 for additional buildings, the post can be made to accommodate the government's war department, evidently plans to send here.

At Fort Logan the belief was expressed that the most likely plan of the government in the recruiting here of volunteer regiments. After the campaign in Cuba in 1898 the thirty-fourth United States Infantry, composed entirely of volunteers from Colorado, Wyoming and other western states, was recruited at Fort Logan. Because of the record made by this regiment in the Philippines it is believed that the war department proposes, if necessary, to recruit one or more volunteer regiments from the same territory for service in Mexico, where conditions would not be altogether dissimilar from those in the Philippines.

As significant of the activity in the war department is the fact that during the past few weeks all ordnance at Fort Logan has been moved to other points. One carload of arms was shipped to Fort D. A. Russell, near Cheyenne, a week ago.

Every Man Should Own a Home

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

How Much Rent Are You Paying? How long have you been paying it? How long do you expect to continue paying it? Why pay rent at all? Did you ever consider that the yearly rental you are paying would go a long ways toward paying for a home of your very own? These are questions of vital importance and should have careful thought.

As a savings institution there is nothing so safe as real estate. As an investment it pays larger dividends than anything else that approaches it when security is considered. Some of the most colossal fortunes of all times have been made by investing in real estate.

Then the pleasure of owning your own home, the pride you will take in beautifying your house and premises, the joy of sitting by your own fireside with your loved ones, with the happy knowledge that in case of accident or sickness you will be sheltered beneath your own roof with no landlord to call for rent.

ANTHONY SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES CLOSE

Precautionary Measure Is Taken to Prevent Spread of Scarlet Fever.

Anthony, N. M., April 27.—Scarlet fever has broken out among the children of the town and vicinity and the school board has closed the school and the church services have also been discontinued. There are five cases among the American children. It is not known how many among the natives. Fortunately it is apparently in a mild form and it is believed that it will be speedily checked.

The past week has been more than usually cold. Ice formed on two nights and the cold is enough to show on the alfalfa every morning. In spite of the cold, the first cutting of hay will likely begin about the eighth of May in some fields, but not in all. The peach, plum and apricot crops are likely to be quite short in this part of the valley, but the balance of the fruit is as yet unharmed.

Spraying for codling moth has begun in several orchards and will be continued.

The Valley Mercantile & Lumber company is making the front of its store building nearly solid glass and board has a noticeable improvement on the building.

The Santa Fe has a painting gang at work on the buildings and tank of the company here. The carpenter gang has just finished putting in a box under their girder to allow R. Jackson and others to irrigate their lands on the west side of the track.

Water for irrigation is quite scarce, as the river has partly left the head of the ditch and the Las Cruces ditch waste water has been stopped for a few days.

The Farmers' association books are being posted and audited by Mr. Riggs of Thurston & Longmeyer. A new system of books will be installed.
